

Redfoot SAFARIS

INSPIRED AFRICAN TRAVEL

WHEN TO TRAVEL IN AFRICA

- Best time to travel for weather patterns but in many places expect peak season crowds in certain peak months and high prices
- Best option to avoid the crowds and high prices but still benefit from good weather and sightings
- Generally rainy season, some places are best avoided but others are really year round options and anything works

		Jan	Feb	Mar	Apr	May	Jun	Jul	Aug	Sep	Oct	Nov	Dec
Southern Africa
SA Game Reserves	Year Round	Good year round game viewing					Better visibility and concentration of animals in winter
Cape Town	Year Round	Excellent summer destination					Winter Rainfall
SA Southern Beaches	Avoid winter	Excellent summer destination					Rain in south, cooler temps over winter
SA Northern Natal Beaches	Year Round	Excellent summer destination					Decent temps year round
Victoria Falls	Year Round	Water levels peak in April					Water levels can be low
Okavango Delta & Chobe	Year Round	Summer rains, thicker bush			Peak water levels in Delta, best viewing
Kalahari Reserves	Year Round	Rains bring grass & great game viewing
Namibia	Year Round	Summer desert vegetation				Cooler temperatures
Mozambique	Avoid rains	Cyclone season			Cooler temperatures, no rain
East Africa
Tanzania Safari	Year Round	Great year round game			Some rain		Dry season peak game viewing					Some rain
Serengeti Migration	Year Round	Peak Migration in Serengeti
Zanzibar	Avoid rains	Long rainy season
Kenyan Safari	Year Round	Some rain				Great year round game viewing						Some rain
Masai Mara Migration	Year Round	Peak Migration in Masai Mara
Gorilla Trekking	Year Round	Rain makes trekking harder					Some rain
Indian Ocean Islands
Mauritius, Seychelles	Year Round	Summer rains			Hot, humid summer. Temperate winter.
Madagascar	Year Round	Summer rains				Hot, humid summer. Temperate winter.							